NEWS OF THE DAY. -Gold closed at New York, yesterday, at

-Cotton closed irregular; sales 4217 bales a 14% cents.

all, who landed at New York on the 27th ultimo to go to Richmond, Maine, got the wrong tickets, and arrived at Richmond, Virginia, the day after, with only $4 in the party. The police took care of them, and got them lodgings at a hotel. -Gossip says that the Empress Augusta, of Germany, has been an invaluable aid and counsellor to Kaiser William. She secured his appointment as King by a witticism, and has always sided with Bismarck in that astute stateman's policy. From early youth her great ambition has been to be Empress of Germany. She was a daughter of the Duchess of Weimar, in whose palace Goethe lived for so many years, and her girlhood was passed under the eye and the influoe of that great poet.

-The French prisoners of war in Germany are signing their names to a petition addressed to the National Assembly at Bordeaux, in which, declaring upon their honor to obey what government France shall choose, they demand that the government shall be the true expression of the will of the French people. They therefore request an appeal to universal suffrage, in order to decide the two following questions : Pirst, monarchy or republic; second, the name of the monarch in case of the monarchy being successful. This suggestion seems to have a leaning towards Bona-

-Is it not about time Congress should put a stop to contesting members playing the one-sided game of "Heads I win, talls you lose ?"! We do not knew how much money has thus been exended, but the aggregate sum is enormous. Mr. Shields has just been paid $5000 for unsuccessfully contesting the seat of Mr. Van Horn, of Missouri. What should we think of a court of justice that would give a party litigant a judgment for a the positive performance of salutary deeds, considerable sum of money for expenses in bringing an action that never should have been instituted? Such absurdities are no more justifiable in Congress than-in courts.

-The investigation of the charges of bribery and corruption in the Virginia Legislature, according to the reports in the Richmond papers, elleits statements showing that the par value of votes in that body was estimated by the lobbyists of the Pennsylvania Railway Company at $500, with $50 premium in special cases. The only case detected yet, however, is that of a colored memoer, who, being as he was going to vote that way anyhow," said he would merely accept the amount as a "natural gift," but as the money was not given to him at the time he expected it, he had a quarrel with the "natural giver," which led to an exposure:

-There was a great clamor in the Belleville District of Paris when the news of the result of Jules Favre's negotiations with Bismarck was made known. Excited meetings were held, and Favre was denounced as a "sham Republican" and a "miserable traitor." An orator at one of these meetings relieved himself by exclaiming, after denouncing Favre for delivering up Mont Valerien to the Germans, "But, sacre | away in the vista of the future I see a guillotine and the heads of traitors?" Wild cheering followed this burst, an evidence that there is an element in Paris which would not hesitate, if able, to revive the horrors of 1792.

-For the hundredth time the British Govern ment is to "inquire" into the affairs of Ireland. John Bull is an obstinate fellow, and refuses to accept facts as they are. No sensible Englishman will suppose for a moment that any investigation into the condition of Ireland will meet the exigencies of the case. The agitations in Ireland are due to the efforts of the National party that desires the independence of their native land. They will be satisfied with nothing else, and all attempts to bring order out of the political chaos that prevails .fn that province of the English crown, based upon the refusal of England to recognize the plain demands of the Irish people, must inevitably result in failure.

-It is commonly believed that iron and steel become brittle by exposure to frost, and accidents on railroads in cold weather are often attributed to this cause. 'Recent experiments made in England go to show that the idea is not well founded, and that if there be any difference in elasticity in metals at high and low temperatures, it is in favor of the latter. One investigator, Mr. Spence, subjected some east-iron bars to a trial of strength at 60 degrees and at zero, and found that the reduction of temperature, other things bring equal, increased their power of resistance. It is urged, too that quite as many breakings of axles and rails occur in summer as in winter, and that the true cause of them is bad workmanship or methods of manufacture. -The official statement of the public debt of France at the beginning of 1870 showed a total of $2.600,000,000. Three loans were contracted during 1870, which, when capitalized, will amount to-$400.000,000; French war expenditure, yet to be covered by loan, $200,000,000. Germany now demands $1,000,000,000, which, if it can be berrowed at all, will probably be on such terms as will make the indemnity reach $1,500,000.000. The New York Times estimates that supposing at the end of three or more, probably of six years, France should be able to pay this enormous bill, she will find herself in the possession of a national debt which reaches the alarming total of $4,700, 000,000. It is not easy to see how, under any form of government, no matter what his prospects of stability, such a sum as that is to be carried. In addition to all this, territory is to be added to Germany which yielded the treasury of France about twelve millions of dollars per gress, with its numberous pains and penalties, nearly all the leading Virginia journals are urg ing that a State law shall be passed to separat the Congressional elections from all other elections, so that they may be held at a time when no State elections are to occur. It is probable that this will be done not only in Virginia, but among the States generally, as the only means of avoiding some of the disagreeable features of the outrageous act. New York will perhaps speedily separate its elections, and we take it that in time Maryland will de the same, should the Congres sional law remain in force. Such a change on the part of individual States would necessitate additional elections in most of them, but it is far better to submit to that inconvenience than that the local elections should be controlled or interfered with by partisans under the influence of outside authority, with United States troops at their individual call, and State officials entirely at their mercy. -Commercial Travellers' National Association is the title of an organization which has been effected in New York, with branches at other commercial points, for the purpose of adding to the economy and prosperity of the commercial traveller. The fact of such an organization indicates the extensiveness and importance of the interests connected with it, business being conducted now over the whole country very largely through such agents. It is stated that railroad and steamboat lines, aggregating over 25,000 miles of travel, and the proprietors of nearly 1200 hotels, have conceded a commutation of twenty to thirty-three and a third per cent. to members of the association. The association seeks to have oppressive license laws modified, though it is generally conceded that commercial travellers ought to pay something where they sell goods, a percentage on their sales, if nothing else. A. S. Dodd is president of the association in New York, and it is, designed to have a vice president in Baltimore, as in other cities. Mr. Duncan B. Cannon, formerly of Baltimore, but now of New York, is treasurer of the association, membership of which requires a yearly fee of

The Consolidation Bill.

Governor Scott has signed the Consolidation Bill, and, in a special message to the General Assembly, sets forth the reasons why the project meets with his approval. He takes a cheerful view of the situation, and expresses the conviction that the Blue Ridge road can be completed to Knoxville without any further help from the State, and that the Consolidation Bill presents a certainty of saving the State from becoming eventually liable upon its endorsement of the Blue

We do not like the Consolidation Bill; but we cannot forget that the demands of the Greenville and Port Royal Rings for $4,000,-000, in bonds of the State, were defeated at the last moment through the efforts of Governor Scott. Nor do we overlook the fact that, in the very last hours of the session, Governor Scott vetoed the Legislative Appropriation Bill, because there had been smuggled into it a sum of $90,000, which the State did not, and could not, rightfully owe. The good works of Governor Scott, in the direction of financial reform, during the session just ended, entitle him to a large measure of public-confidence, even when he defends and justifies a measure which many of the people have regarded with doubt, if not with positive distrust. We would fain expect great things from the Consolidation Bill.

German Immigration-The Father land's Loss, America's Gain.

We see, from the Berlin press, that a lecture of Mr. Friedrich Kapp on the effects of emigration on Germany and the United States must have made a great impression on the inhabitants of the German capital. In speaking of the immense losses to Germany by the emigration of great masses of her inhabitants, and in alluding to the fact that up to this time Germany had proved its vital force more by enduring evils than by he deeply moved his auditory. The lecturer entered into an ingenious and striking calculation of the benefits which this country derived from the influx of the hundreds of thousands of Germans, who had come here after having been brought up and educated in Germany at the expense of the old Fatherland, and who now spent not only their energy, but even the very considerable means which they took with them, for the benefit of their adopted country. He moreover told the Berliners that the emigration to the United States always increased whenever anti-liberal movements were enforced by the German Governments, and he forewarned them not to permit the sway of an illiberal policy after their great achievements during the present war; because this would infallibly be followed by an increase of emigration, and consequently by large losses to their national wealth.

This is the first time, we believe, that emigration has been shown to the Germans in the light of simple financial principles. Being usually close and shrewd in money matters, the German people may, perhaps, profit by Mr. Kapps's lessons of international economy. Emigration, however, is governed by so large a variety of circumstances. that it will hardly be materially affected by merely political considerations, no matter how warmly urged by the advocates of public economy. What the German emigrant looks to to-day, and what he will continue to look to for a long time to come, is the measure of material prosperity which his means, energy and labor will purchase in this country, as compared to that for which, with the same resources, he might hope in the Fatherland. Generations must elapse before an equilibrium in regard to the value of labor and the price of land in both covntries can be established. Until then it is likely that the Germans, eager to benefit their condition, will continue to flock to our shores. And we shall always, as now, be selfish enough to bid them, whatever their number, a hearty welcome. The more the merrier!

The City Expenses.

City Council, on Tuesday night, passed the appropriation bill, after making several changes which reduce what Mr. Mantelini called the "demnition total" by $26,000.

The police department appropriation was cut down from $85,000 to $70,000, the appropriation for interest was reduced from $320,000 to $310,000, and the Mayor's contingent expenses were brought from $10,000 to $5,000. This is all very well, but it does not go far enough: There stands a sum of $30 000 for improvements, which is three times as much as the city can afford. OWS: BILL TO APPROPRIATE MONEY TO MEET THE LIABILITIES OF THE CITY DURING THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31ST, 1871.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Aldermen of the Lity of Charleston in the City Council assembled, That the following sums of money for the specific purposes herein named be, and the same are hereby, appropriated, to be paid out of the City Treasury, in the manner prescribed by law, to wit: For the Almshouse, twenty-five thousand dollars; for the Orphanhouse, thirty-three thousand dollars; for gas light, thirty thousand dollars; for streets and pavements, seventy thousand dollars; to main ain the Police and Detective Department, seventy thousand dollars; Fire Department. thirty thousand dollars; for the Lunatic Asyum, seven thousand dollars; for Tidal Drains. seven thousand dollars; for salaries of city officers, thirty thousand dollars; for printing, four thousand dollars; for Health Department, thirty thousand dollars; for interest on the public debt, three hundred and ten thousand dollars; for contingent expenses, to be drawn on the order of the Mayor, five thousand dollars; for improvements, thirty thousand dollars; for unpaid bills, for 1870, forty-thousand dollars; for House of Correction, three thousand dollars; for Old Folks' Home, seven thou sand dollars; for Orphanhouse of the Sisters of Mercy, six thousand dollars.

The Weather Reports.

We regret to learn that a misunderstanding with the Western Union Telegraph Company as led to a partial suspension of the collection and delivery of the important weather reports furnished to the press by the United States Signal Bureau. A sufficient appro priation for the purposes of the Bureau has been made by Congress, and the officers of the Bureau have spared no efforts to prevent any break in the transmission of their reports. It has been found, however, extremely difficult to make a contract with the Telegraph Company upon a reasonable basis, and for a time the full reports could not be sent.

The commercial public are thoroughly alive to the importance and value of the weather reports. They have been published long enough to show their utility and general trustworthiness, and .we hope that the Western Union Telegraph Company will soon consent to receive and deliver the reports upon terms which will save itself from actual loss, and which the Bureau, the representative of the public, is able and willing to pay. This is not too much to ask from a list or return said property possessed by him, or concern like the Western Union Company.

The Columbia Postoffice.

In the United States Senate, on the last day of the session, Senator Robertson succeeded in carrying through an amendment only amendment adopted by the Senate out of the one hundred and fifty amendments which were offered the night before the adjournment. The Washington Patriot gives the following report of the remarks made relative to the appropriation:

Mr. Robertson moved an amendment appro priating $75,000 for the erection of a United States postoffice building at Columbia, S. C. Mr. Saulsbury expressed his surprise that Southern senators, who were so constantly arraigning the communities which they professed to represent should offer anything for their benefit.

Mr. Robertson said the assertion that he had ever said anything derogatory to the community he represented was false. [Sensation.] Mr. Saulsbury did not mean any personal althe table, . which was not agreed to -ayes 7, nays 43, and the amendment was then adopted.

AN INSALUBRIOUS SEASON .spring is welcome, but not its diseases. We mould be glad to have its bloom without its fogs, its vapors, its sudden changes of temperature, and the agues, fits of indigestion, bilious attacks and other harassing disorders which they engender: As this cannot be, it behooves all sensiole people to do the best they can to escape such serious drawbacks on the poetry of the season. Ask any physician what the weak and delicate ought to do when miasma infects the air. The answer will be, "Tone and regulate the system." But how? That is the important question. A lozen medical men would probably recommend as many different medicines. On the other hand, the thousands who have tested the virtues of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as an invig orant and alterative, will recommend but one, the wholesome preventive and restorative in which their own experience has taught them to trust. A course of this rare vegetable stimulant, commenced now, would save many a pang to the feeble and debilitated. It would be wise economy, too, for it would probably preclude the necessity for medical advice. Without disparagem at to a respect and honor, it is just as well, if possible, to keep out of the doctors' hands, and they would have comparatively few cases of fever and ague, dyspensia, biliousness, nervousness and general debility to attend to, if this agreealle and health-

A few Certificates from the many in our possession from persons who have tested the OLD CAROLINA BITTERS: FROM THE POSTMASTER AT TUMBLING SHOALS, S. C.

SHOALS, S. C., April 9, 1870.

Messrs. Goodrich, Wineman & Co., Charleston, S. C.:

S. C .: Gentlemen-This is to inform you that about a Geutlemen—This is to inform you that about a year ago. I was in delicate health, worn out with old age and hard work, weighing one hundred and twenty-five pounds; upon request I commenced using the OLD CAROLINA BITTERS. After using nine bottles, I felt as well and vigorous as thirty years ago—went to work and made money. I weighed after using the above, one hundred and seventy-two pounds. I have since heen strong and hale. Accept, gentlemen, my thanks, and success say I to the OLB CAROLINA BITTEMS.

Messrs. Goodrich. Wineman & Co.:
Gentlemen—When in your city, two weeks ago, your Dr. Service gave me a bottle of your celebrated CAROLINA BITTERS, which I brought home for my father, whose health was very feeble.
After using it he was so well pleased with its effects, that he considers them almost indispensable. Please find enclosed sixteen, ($16.) the price of two cases; direct them W. J. Chambers & Son,
No. 16, C. R. Yours, very respectfully,
